Fig. E-1

Close-up view of a deep subgluteus maximus bursa (A) interposed between the fascia lata and the gluteus medius. The tensor fasciae latae muscle has been reflected posteriorly with the fascia lata.
Three of the subgluteus maximus bursae have been injected with blue-colored latex: the deep subgluteus maximus bursa (A), the superficial subgluteus maximus bursa (B), and the gluteofemoral bursa not associated with the greater trochanter (C).
The gluteus maximus muscle and the fascia lata have been reflected posteriorly to reveal three underlying bursae that have been injected with blue-colored latex: the deep subgluteus maximus bursa (A), the secondary deep subgluteus maximus bursa (B), and the superficial subgluteus maximus bursa (C).
