

Supplemental Content 1. Dot density plot of peak axial tibial acceleration during overground, treadmill, grass, and sidewalk running. Each dot represents a single participant. The solid line represents the mean for each condition.

