

Supplemental Digital Content 2. Dot density plot of peak resultant tibial acceleration during overground, treadmill, grass, and sidewalk running. Each dot represents a single participant. The solid line represents the mean for each condition.