ANONYMOUS QUESTIONNAIRE

Introduction

Thank you for taking part in this important study. The Yakama Nation Women's Initiative and the University of Washington are working together to design a program to improve the health of young women who live on or around the Yakama Reservation. Your answers to these questions will help us design a sexual health program for the community.

This questionnaire is anonymous and does not contain any details that can identify you. It will stay in a sealed envelope until it is opened for analysis at the University of Washington.
