Lymphocytic Vasculitis Associated with Mild Rejection in a Vascularized Composite Allograft Recipient: A Clinicopathological Study

- Canada’s first facial Vascularized Composite Allograft (34 biopsies over 430 days)
- Retrospective histological review of the dermal inflammatory infiltrates and vascular damage (lymphocytic vasculitis) associated with mild rejection
- Lymphocytic vasculitis in mild acute rejection may indicate insufficient immunosuppression

SF Roy et al. Transplantation. July 2020

@SimonRoyMD
@TransplantJrnI